Forge of the Metallic Sisters

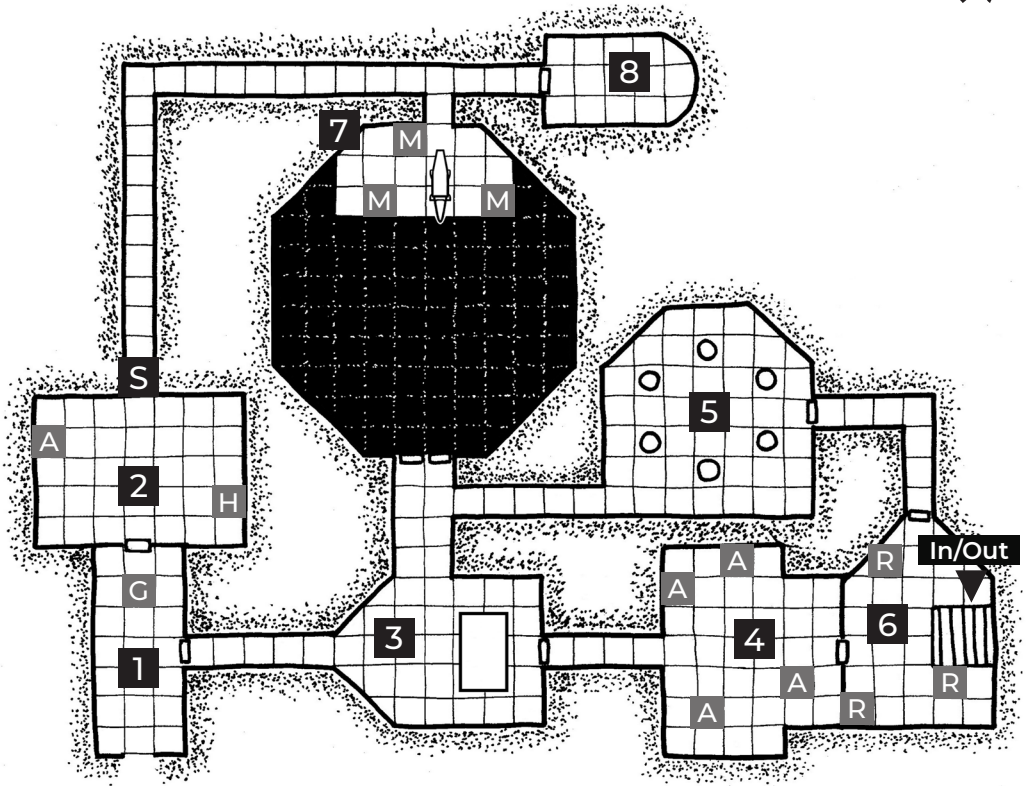

The Bronze Maiden, the Silver Mother, and the Leaden Crone protect the mighty forge that created them!

The three sisters defend the Cosmic Forge where anything can be made real. Can the characters find a way to use the forge for their own purposes?

RANDOM ENCOUNTERS

d4	Details
1	1d4 starving rust monsters
2	2 patrolling steam wyrds (invisible stalkers) cloaked in steam (see Bellows in Area 6)
3	1d4 primordial slime
4	The ghost of the slain electrum sister appears

Cosmic Forge. Once every 100 years, the forge can convert a pile of ingots into a magical object of equivalent size. The object can be conscious (see Shadowdark RPG pg. 294-295) and has one benefit equivalent in power to a tier 5 wizard spell (at GM's discretion).

S Secret Door: Behind bookshelf

Shadowdark RPG
7th-Level

1. Guardian Golem. A grand archway carved with suns and moons opens into a 30' high, narrow room. A stone golem stands at attention before a door. After PCs enter, the gravity of the room flips direction every other round (DC 15 DEX or 3d6 falling damage, golem immune). The golem will not leave the chamber.

2. Schematics Room. Two thin, bronze men in scholar's robes (treat as peasants) shuffle between ivory shelves bursting with books and scrolls. They shriek and drop armloads of schematics upon seeing strangers. Argot and Hestus are identical twin automatons, the witty and talkative younger brothers of the Metallic Sisters (Area 7). They warn that their sisters would only allow use of the Cosmic Forge for a just cause of great importance. Their library contains a scroll revealing the location of The Kytherian Mechanism. A secret door behind a bookshelf leads to Area 8.

3. The Rheingold. A stack of 15 gold ingots (1,500 gp) sits on an altar draped with blue silk. Each is stamped with a long-necked dragon. Each time someone takes an ingot, DC 15 CHA or lose 1d6 XP (this can result in losing a level). A worn object forged of at least 3 ingots grants its wearer immunity to one type of dragon breath.

4. Automaton Menders. 4 willowy, human-like automatons (as peasants) made of scraps of wood, glass, and metal tinker at workshop tables lit by stained glass lamps. They speak halting Common and are fearful of outsiders, cowering at the first sign of trouble. One has a Wand of Warding embedded in its leg; another has a Potion of Healing held within its driftwood ribcage.

5. Magic Lightning Rods. A circle of six metal poles jut from the ground. An arc of blue lightning shoots between two random poles each round (DC 12 DEX or 3d6 damage if in path). Holding a weapon in its path makes weapon +2 magical for an hour. A socket beneath a floor tile holds a Wand of Lightning Bolts; removing it disables the poles.

6. Dross Room. Three rust monsters pick through slag piles. Among the slag is a bellows carved with a tornado icon. Puffing the bellows at steam wyrds (see random encounters) is the contingency to free them. A barred chute in the floor goes to the outside (DC 20 STR to open).

7. The Cosmic Forge. Beyond a sea of black lava dotted with pale points of light, three metallic sisters surround the grand, ivory-white Cosmic Forge to defend it from evildoers. The lava reduces light timers to 15 min and deals 5d10 damage/round (death at 0 HP).

Metallic Sister. A winged woman of filigreed metal. AC 15, HP 40, ATK 3 slam +6 (1d8), MV near (fly), S +4, D +1, C +4, I +2, W +2, Ch +3, AL L, LV 8. Metalborn. See below for each sister's talent.

- Leaden Crone. No hostile spells can be cast within near range of crone.
- Bronze Maiden. In place of attacks, cast fireball (+6 spellcasting, DC 13).
- Silver Mother. In place of attacks, heal a creature in close 3d6 HP.

8. Ingot Vault. Sealed by a massive door locked with a giant spinning wheel mechanism (DC 21 DEX to pick open, any metallic sister can open it with a touch). Inside, a neat pyramid of 30 gold ingots sits on the floor (3,000 gp).
