Fantastic Four

FROM THE DEPTHS

Welcome to the first Fantastic Four adventure for the Marvel Multiverse Role-Playing Game. This one-shot story pays tribute to the World's Greatest Comic Magazine and gives fans a chance to play as the FF in a tale inspired by the team's first adventure.

WHAT IS A ROLE-PLAYING GAME?

A role-playing game (RPG for short) is a game in which the players take on the roles of various characters to create stories together. In the Marvel Multiverse Role-Playing Game, the stories tend to be action-packed epics featuring super-powered heroes and villains clashing against each other in high-stakes conflicts.

The game part of role-playing game comes from rolling dice to figure out what happens when there's a question about whether a character might succeed or fail at something their player wants them to do. Succeed or fail, the story keeps going either way. The results simply tell you which direction the story heads in for the moment.

Unlike most kinds of games, there are no winners or losers in a role-playing game. The objective isn't to score more points than anyone else or to have the last hero standing in a battle. The objective, instead, is to tell amazing stories with your fellow players.

To get started, you need the Core Rulebook or the Quick-Start Rules you can find at Marvel.com/rpg.

WHO ARE THE FANTASTIC FOUR?

The Fantastic Four are the first super-hero team revealed in the Marvel Universe, and they have been featured in Marvel adventures since Fantastic Four #1 came out way back in 1961. The four teammates were imbued with superhuman powers thanks to their exposure to cosmic radiation.

Genius Reed Richards (Mister Fantastic) has the power to elongate his body like elastic. Sue Storm (Invisible Woman) can turn invisible and create powerful force-fields. Johnny Storm (Human Torch) can envelop his body in flaming plasma and fly across the skies. Ben Grimm (the Thing) has orange, rocky skin and superhuman strength. They fight evil, explore the Multiverse and stick together as the Marvel Universe's first family.

In this adventure, as written, players are intended to choose members of the Fantastic Four as their characters. If necessary, they could also add in the Four's helpful robot, H.E.R.B.I.E., as a fifth team member. However, it wouldn't be hard to add other famed members of the team's extended family: She-Hulk, Ant-Man (Scott Lang), Medusa, Crystal, Luke Cage and many others you can find in the Core Rulebook and other MMRPG books. Of course, players are always welcome to play a quirky quartet of their own creation. However, some of these challenges are designed specifically for the original team, so the Narrator may have to make some adjustments for other characters.

This adventure is suited for four to five players and one Narrator. Character profiles are included for each of the Fantastic Four and the menaces they can face along the way.

Remember, this adventure is meant to be fun first. Don't worry too much about getting all of the rules right. Just play in the way that is the most fun for everyone involved.

Players can also use a new team maneuver created especially for this adventure:

New Team Maneuver

For this adventure, the team can choose to use a new team maneuver. This must be chosen by the team at the beginning of the adventure.

Fantastic Four

First Steps (Offensive, Level 2)

The next time each team member activates a power, they pay no Focus for it.

SPOILERS AHEAD!

From this point forward, the text is intended for Narrators only. Players reading past this point threaten to spoil some of the fun and surprises in store.

WHAT'S REALLY GOING ON

Welcome, Narrator! Here is what's happening behind the scenes in this adventure.

- Giganto, one of Mole Man's monsters, is being manipulated. A device has been attached under his scales (making it difficult to find) that causes the gigantic creature to go berserk and attack the surface world.
- The Fantastic Four are drawn to the scene and can pursue Giganto into Subterranea, the territory of the Mole Man.
- The Mole Man is unaware this has happened and resents any intrusion. However, he understands this is not how Giganto would normally act.
- The players can bargain with Mole Man or fight him. How they deal with him can affect how the rest of the story plays out.
- The FF can then find and face Giganto.
- If you wish to weave this adventure into an ongoing story, the heroes may discover that the device has some nefarious origins. See "Adventure Solved (?)" for more on this.

UP FROM THE DEPTHS

It's a beautiful day in New York. The Fantastic Four (and H.E.R.B.I.E.) are at the Baxter Building, unwinding from their last mission. To start off, ask each player to introduce their character and describe how they are spending their downtime. This is a great way to set the scene and get everyone to jump into the shoes of the character they're playing. If anyone would like to pass on saying what they're doing, feel free to read out loud any of the following bits:

- Mister Fantastic tinkers in his lab. While he's working, a high-tech (and exorbitantly expensive) wrench slides off the bench and is about to crash to the floor. Have the player make an Agility vs. 14 TN non-combat check to see if Mister Fantastic can stretch his arms and catch the wrench. Dropping it breaks the tool and, even worse, causes a delay in Mister Fantastic's upgrades.
- The Thing is in the kitchen, making lunch for the team. He goes to open the oven, and it's stuck! Have the player a Melee vs. TN 16 non-combat check to pry the oven door open to keep the food from burning. If he fails the check, the oven door comes off in the Thing's hand.

Art by Jack Kirby

- The Human Torch is messing with Thing while he's in the kitchen making lunch. He secretly heats up a piece of food and offers it to Thing. Have the Torch's player make an Ego vs. TN 14 non-combat check to successfully lie and say that it's a great new dish and not hot at all. If Thing eats the food, he burns the inside of his mouth! Luckily, it's not hot enough to do any real damage.
- The Invisible Woman analyzes a biochemical compound that was discovered on their last trip to the Negative Zone. Have her player make a Logic vs. TN 13 non-combat check to reveal she has discovered the remains of a recently hatched insectoid egg, possibly kin to Annihilus.
- H.E.R.B.I.E. is patrolling the Baxter Building looking for any potential intruders or threats. Have its player make a Vigilance vs. TN 10 non-combat check. On a success, the robot notices movement! It turns out the Baxter Building has a bit of a mouse problem.

After everyone has had a chance to describe what they're doing, an alert goes off in Mister Fantastic's lab, signaling that something is approaching from beneath Manhattan. The Fantastic Four's technology needs calibration to locate the unidentified object, which requires a Logic vs. TN 18 non-combat check.

On a failure, the team doesn't get a specific location but a general area. They can hop into the Fantasti-Car and try to track the beast, but they can't find it until it emerges from Yancy Street. If so, they arrive as the creature dives back into his hole, leaving chaos behind.

On a success, the team can quickly hop into the Fantasti-Car and track the unidentified object to Yancy Street. If they do, they arrive at a quiet and peaceful scene. People are going about their day. A hot dog stand (C.J.'s Dogs) and a food truck (Bro's Burritos) serve customers nearby, while a police officer watches over work being done on a sewer by the stoplight.

Shortly after the team arrives, the earth begins to rumble. Mister Fantastic has a device that can track seismological disturbances. It starts frantically lighting up and beeping, letting the team know that the tremors are moving closer to the surface.

As the rumbling gets more violent, people on the street begin to panic. The team notices sewer workers climb out of a nearby manhole and run from the site. Seconds later, the pavement erupts. A giant scaly hand and then another rise up from the debris and grab onto the sidewalks and park benches nearby. The creature lifts itself up, halfway out of the hole. A humongous, scaly green head starts to bellow.

At this point, show the players the cover to Fantastic Four #1 to have a better sense of what they see.

This is Giganto, an enormous monster. You can find his profile in the back of this adventure.

The creature begins to lash out all around, hitting lampposts, knocking over the hot dog stand and knocking portions of the buildings to the ground. People on the street scatter, most leaving the area. The police officer immediately radios headquarters and pulls his weapon.

At the sign of any such hostility, Giganto quickly burrows back into the ground, leaving destruction in his wake. While most of the civilians have gotten clear, there are several who remain in danger and need rescuing. Each character can save one of the civilians listed below. If they're successful, give the character 1 point of Karma.

Here are the following civilians who need help:

1. A mother and her baby are trapped on a section of the street sinking into the ground. They can be grabbed and carried to safety with a Melee vs. TN 13 non-combat check. On a failure, the ground collapses, and the pair fall in. Fortunately, it is a short drop into an abandoned subway tunnel, leaving them shaken but unscathed.
2. Rubble from a damaged building falls toward an old man below. The debris can be blasted or knocked away with an Agility vs. 12 TN non-combat check. On a failure, the debris lands on the man, but it turns out he's made of Styrofoam. The building hit was a prop store!
3. A propane tank on the hot dog stand has been punctured and is leaking gas right next to an open flame. The Human Torch or Invisible Woman can contain the resulting explosion with an Elemental Sphere by making an Ego vs. TN 13 non-combat check. Mister Fantastic, Thing or H.E.R.B.I.E. could cover the tank with their body, making a Resilience vs. TN 13 non-combat check. On a failure, the explosion destroys the hot dog stand and food truck. Neither were insured, but fortunately, their owners already escaped, so no one is harmed.
4. In the chaos, two 6-year-old twin boys—Mike and Ike—have been separated from their family. They're scared but can give a loose description of their parents. Spotting the parents in all the destruction requires a Vigilance vs. TN 12 non-combat check. If the heroes fail the check, they can leave the children with the nearest first responders who arrive at the scene.
5. A pipe has been severed and is spewing high-pressure water everywhere, flooding the street. There are some downed power lines that are close to touching the growing puddle, threatening to electrocute anyone in contact with the water. A hero can attempt one of the following:
   - Seal the pipe shut with a Melee vs. TN 14 non-combat check.
   - Fuse the pipe shut with an Ego vs. TN 14 non-combat check.
   - Use the tech in the Fantasti-Car to connect to the water and electric grid with a Logic vs. TN 17 non-combat check.

   On any failure, the call that the police officer made to HQ helps the power company turn off the electricity in the area before anyone is hurt.

After all the civilians in immediate danger are safe, local police and paramedics arrive on the scene to take over damage control and help the wounded.

A huge hole remains in Giganto's wake. The hole is large enough to fit a vehicle through, and the Thing would feel comfortable piloting the Fantasti-Car into the warrens beneath Manhattan. If there are any turns in the tunnel below, Mister Fantastic knows that he can trace the monster using the seismographic device that brought them to the site.

INTO THE SUBTERRANEAN REALM

The tunnel that Giganto left behind is pitch-black and damp. The Fantasti-Car can fit comfortably into it and has headlights to illuminate the way. The Thing has the Piloting trait, giving him an edge on Agility checks triggered while driving. Even with that, he has to go slowly to navigate the twists and turns of the underground maze. There's no way to go fast enough to catch up with Giganto.

As the team ventures farther into the depths of the tunnels, they encounter hazards blocking their way. Each member should have an opportunity to help advance their pursuit, as described below. You can randomly choose the order in which these hazards occur, or you can simply go around the table.

Each character has trouble on the listed checks while their flight continues. Keep in mind that players can spend a point of Karma to cancel out the trouble.

Thing

The section of the tunnel the heroes are traveling through begins to collapse. The Thing needs to do some risky piloting, racing the Fantasti-Car along the ceiling at full throttle to make it out. This requires an Agility vs. TN 15 non-combat check with trouble to succeed. However, the Thing's Piloting trait cancels this trouble out. On a failure, everyone takes dM×2 points of Health Damage.

Invisible Woman

A section of the tunnel is completely submerged underwater. The Invisible Woman can use an Elemental Sphere to cover the Fantasti-Car as they fly through the water. This requires an Ego vs. TN 15 non-combat check with trouble to succeed. On a failure, the water breaks through and rushes over the Fantasti-Car. While the car's dome protects everyone from the water, they suffer dM×2 points of Health Damage from being bounced around in the vehicle.

Mister Fantastic

The tunnel branches out into dozens of sub-tunnels. Mister Fantastic should be able to tune his scanner to follow the most recently created tunnel. This requires a Logic vs. TN 17 non-combat check with trouble to succeed. On a success, the heroes stay on the right path. On a failure, the team heads down the wrong tunnel, costing them time and energy. Each character suffers dM×3 Focus Damage.

Human Torch

The Fantasti-Car's scanners detect a pocket of methane up ahead. It's too dangerous to leave be, as it could ignite by itself while the team is below it and collapse the entire tunnel—or, worse, the explosion could reach the surface and cause massive damage. Human Torch should be able to safely detonate and contain the explosion, eliminating the gas. This requires an Ego vs. TN 15 non-combat check with trouble. On a failure, the explosion is too much to contain, and each character suffers dM×4 Health Damage.

H.E.R.B.I.E.

The headlights on the Fantasti-Car are knocked out by debris. (This might be a good challenge to follow a failure in one of the challenges above.) While Mister Fantastic fixes the problem, the Thing needs light. H.E.R.B.I.E. can jump onto the hood of the Fantasti-Car and use his infrared sight to help the Thing navigate. This requires a Vigilance vs. TN 12 non-combat action check with trouble. On a success, H.E.R.B.I.E. successfully guides the Thing. On a failure, the team bumps into the walls of the tunnel, suffering dM×2 Health Damage.

While these challenges have been created to give each member of the team a chance to use their unique abilities, players can certainly find other ways to achieve these goals. Particularly clever solutions could even earn a point of Karma.

After each of the characters have helped the team get through the challenges, they reach a massive cavern filled with giant crystals, some emitting a phosphorescent glow. That glow is enough to help them see a familiar figure gesturing at them with his staff: the Mole Man!

THE MOLE MAN IN HIS LAIR

The massive chamber the Fantastic Four have entered features a throne atop a pillar that rises from the floor. It is surrounded by a large number of Moloids.

As the Fantasti-Car enters, Moloids begin to drop from the ceiling in such numbers that they haul the vehicle to the chamber's floor. Once on the ground, the Moloids attack the heroes in large groups (use the Group of Moloid Henchmen profile at the back of this adventure). Each player should face one group.

For a quick way to run this battle, skip initiative and let each player go in sequence, followed by the Moloid group attacking them. For example, the Thing goes first, followed by his group, the Invisible Woman goes next followed by her group, etc.

Once the initial wave of Moloids is defeated, the Mole Man rides in on the dragon-like Tricephalous and calls the remaining horde of Moloids to halt their attack. The three-headed monster gently puts him down atop his throne and then stands before the Mole Man to defend him from any attacks.

The Mole Man addresses the team:

How dare you violate the sanctity of my domain! Will there be no end to the surface world's attempts to encroach on my territory? Fools! Explain yourselves—why have you once again entered Subterranea?!

The Mole Man doesn't make any further move to attack until he hears the team out. He has a long history with the FF, which can be both good and bad. He is offended by any insults and takes umbrage at any suggestion that the heroes are moving into his realm without his approval.

If the heroes choose to talk with the Mole Man, play out the conversation. The Mole Man knows that Giganto has gone rogue, though he doesn't know why. He is concerned for one of his most beloved monsters, and he was assembling Moloids to start investigating Giganto's disappearance. However, he keeps that information close to his chest, giving no evidence to his potential enemies that he has lost any control over his monsters.

In most cases, the Mole Man's decision to help requires an Ego vs. TN 15 non-combat check with trouble. The players should choose one hero to make this check. Modify the target number based on how the conversation goes. If the team is courteous and gives a reasonable explanation, take 1 point off the target number. If the heroes show sympathy for the monster, take another point off. However, if the heroes are aggressive and disrespectful, add 1 point to the target number. If the heroes make any indication that they wish to harm the beast, add another point.

You can decide, however, that the team is so disrespectful or persuasive that no roll is necessary. For example, if the heroes insist they plan to kill the monster, the Mole Man shuts down the conversation immediately. If the heroes are kind and understanding instead, they instantly win his support.

Still, in most cases, the Mole Man's capricious nature is best represented by the dice.

If the Mole Man Helps

It is to the team's advantage to come to terms with the Mole Man. He has full mastery of his part of Subterranea and can find the monster easily. But working with Mole Man comes with a price. He wants assurances that his territory will no longer be violated, and he seeks some kind of favor from the team, no questions asked. That may come into play at the end of the adventure (see "Adventure Solved (?)" below).

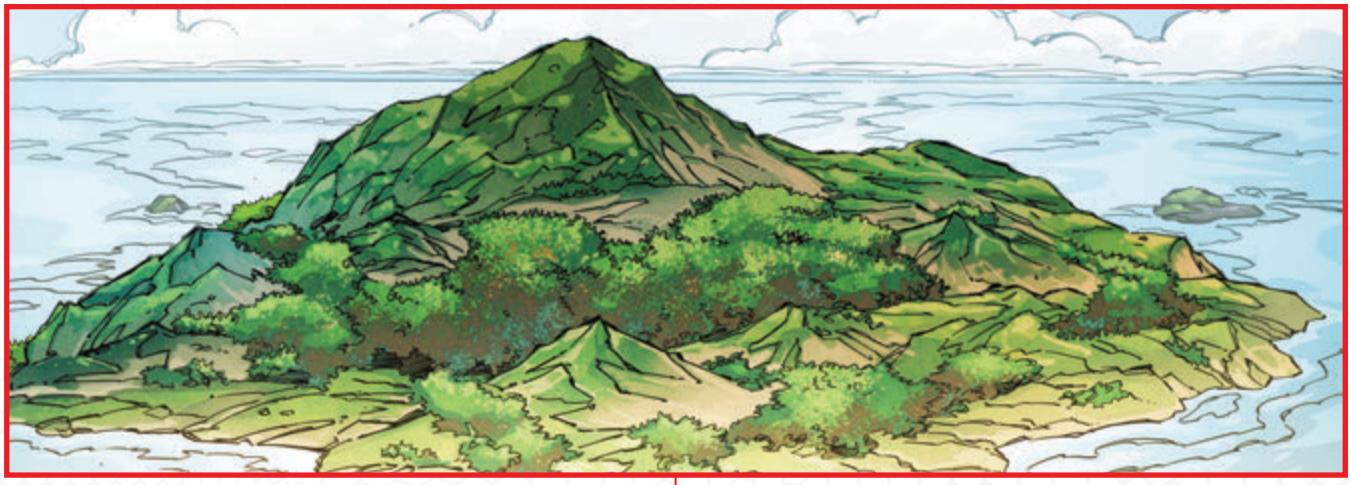

Most importantly, the Mole Man wants a guarantee that the team will not try to kill Giganto or any of his creatures. If they attempt to do so, he turns on them instantly.

If the Mole Man Fights

If the conversation goes south, the Mole Man becomes aggressive and decides to eliminate the intruders. Time to roll for initiative!

The Mole Man has the advantage here. He is in his lair and has the following tools at his disposal:

- Army of Moloids: There is one group of Moloids for each character. Any of them, when possible, use Interpose as a reaction if Mole Man is attacked.
- The Mole Man: He uses his Battle Plan power to give an edge to the groups of Moloids.
- Tricephalous: The Mole Man commands Tricephalous to attack. When possible, it uses Interpose as a reaction if Mole Man is attacked.
- Deviant Technology: The Mole Man can use his staff to activate the defenses in his hideout. When he does, the heroes are assaulted by a blinding light. They can make a Vigilance vs. TN 17 action check to avoid being blinded for 1d6 rounds.

If the heroes defeat the Moloids and Tricephalous, the Mole Man surrenders. Similarly, if the Mole Man is knocked unconscious, his allies surrender. When questioned, the Mole Man tells the heroes where Giganto is located: Monster Island. After that, he begs the heroes to leave him and his monsters alone, though the heroes might be able to persuade him to join the team.

If the Mole Man and his army defeat the heroes, he has his Moloids carry their unconscious bodies back to the surface and dump them on the street. If the defeated team returns to the Baxter Building, they will eventually be able to trace the monster's movements to Monster Island.

FINDING THE MONSTER

If the Mole Man agrees to join the heroes, he leads them through a system of tunnels to Monster Island. If he has not joined them, the party takes longer to navigate the tunnels.

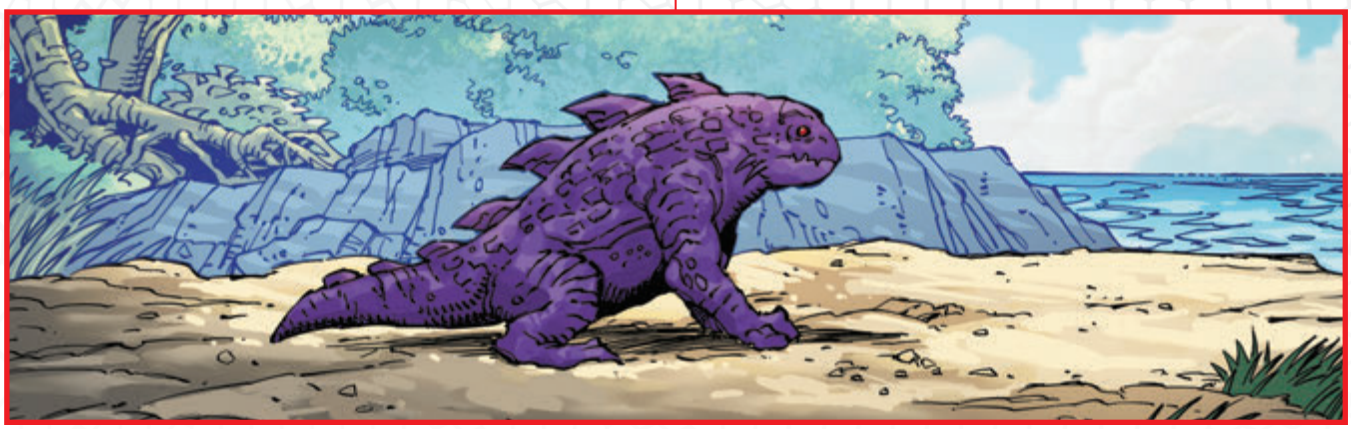

The heroes finally emerge in a sunny clearing surrounded by palm trees and junglelike vegetation. They are on Monster Island, one of several islands scattered about the Pacific that are home to the Mole Man's monsters.

Giganto stands at the center of the open field. He seems extremely agitated, screeching, thrashing about and clawing at his neck. If the Mole Man is with the group, it pains him to see one of his monsters in such agony. Upon spotting the team, Giganto unleashes a terrifying howl and attacks.

Have the characters and Giganto roll for initiative. The Mole Man refuses to participate in the fight, opting to instead secure the area and keep any other monsters from interfering.

Giganto is being manipulated by a device lodged under the scales in his neck. After Giganto falls below 120 Health, scales fall from his neck, exposing the device. If the Mole Man is with the group, he senses the device much earlier and can guide the heroes to target it once Giganto is at 150 Health or lower.

The device has 300 Health. Hitting it requires an attack against a TN of 14. Attacks on the device do no harm to Giganto, and attacks on Giganto do no harm to the device. The device does not have Giganto's damage reduction. Destroying the device is the key to freeing Giganto and potentially learning about who is behind all of this.

- If the Mole Man is with the group and the device is destroyed, Giganto immediately calms down and approaches the group peacefully. The Mole Man offers the heroes his thanks. The device is intact enough to learn about its origin and purpose. The Mole Man is interested in the source of the device and waits to see what Mister Fantastic can find out.
- If the Mole Man is not with the group and the device is destroyed, Giganto no longer attacks. He is, however, afraid of the group and growls at them if they approach. If the team attacks Giganto again, Mole Man appears from a tunnel, scowls at the team and attempts to flee with Giganto. The device is intact enough to learn about its origin and purpose.
- If the Mole Man is with the group and they knock Giganto out after learning about the device, the Mole Man is furious that they did unnecessary harm to the monster. Angry, he destroys the device before the heroes can examine it. He then revives Giganto and escapes back into Subterranea, swearing he will have his vengeance.
- If the Mole Man is not with the group and they knock Giganto out, the device can be deactivated and removed with a Logic vs. TN 19 non-combat check. This can be attempted once before it self-destructs leaving no evidence of its origin or purpose.
- If Giganto defeats the group, the Mole Man appears and recklessly jumps on Giganto's back. After struggling for a while and getting battered, the Mole Man manages to remove the device. He proclaims to the heroes that they now owe him for saving their lives, and he then leaves with Giganto and the device.

ADVENTURE SOLVED (?)

If you're only looking to do a one-shot adventure with the Fantastic Four, you can tie up the story here and move on to other adventures. However, there are many ways to continue the story if you'd like to weave this Fantastic Four one-shot into an ongoing series.

Mister Fantastic is likely to want to investigate this strange device that was attached to the monster. The Mole Man is also invested in learning about it. Here are some adventure seeds to keep the story going:

- The device was a first move in a subterranean war. Other underground despots are looking to attack the Mole Man's territories. Suspects include Tyrannus, Kala and the Netherworlders or even rogue Moloids. Can the heroes stop this war? And, if not, can they protect the surface world from its impact?
- The alien monster hunter Lady Hellbender attached the device to Giganto to stir up Subterranea. She knows there are more monsters under there, and she wants to add them to her sanctuary on Seknarf Nine.
- The villainous corporation Roxxon has discovered key resources in Subterranea and is looking to exploit them. A small team attached the device to Giganto to drive the Mole Man to attack the surface world, giving Roxxon a reason to invade.
- The rogue scientists of A.I.M. are experimenting with ways to control monsters, and this is one of their earliest attempts. What does A.I.M. want with the monsters, and what can the heroes do to stop them?
- The device shows signs of being S.H.I.E.L.D. tech. Why would S.H.I.E.L.D. be trying to control monsters? Or has someone infiltrated the spy organization? Or has someone outside the organization found a stash of S.H.I.E.L.D. devices?

History
As an ambitious young test pilot, Johnny Storm was invited aboard an experimental space mission led by his older sister Sue's boyfriend, Reed Richards. Shortly after takeoff, Storm and the crew were bombarded by cosmic rays, granting them each fantastical abilities. Together, they formed the Fantastic Four and vowed to use their new powers for the good of all humanity.

As the Human Torch, Storm has control over the forces of heat and flame. He can spontaneously burst into flames, shoot fire from his hands, fly and even assume an ultra-hot nova form in times of great need.

Personality
While good at heart, Johnny Storm has always been a natural hothead. It doesn't help that as the youngest member of the Fantastic Four, he has a hard time being taken seriously by his fellow adventurers. Part of that might arise from the fact that he delights in teasing and playing pranks on his older and grumpier teammate, the Thing.

HUMAN TORCH (JOHNNY STORM)

POWERS

Combat Trickery
Action: Reaction
Trigger: The character makes an attack.
Duration: Instant
Cost: 5 Focus
Effect: Once per battle, when the character is attacking targets of equal or higher rank, the character automatically rolls a 1 on their Marvel die, and that die cannot be affected by trouble. If the character is attacking multiple targets, all the targets must be of equal or higher rank.

Elemental Barrage (Fire)
Action: Standard
Duration: Instant
Cost: 15 Focus
Effect: The character designates a space within their line of sight. The attack can affect every enemy within 10 spaces of that. The character makes a single Ego check and compares it to each target's Resilience defense. Affected enemies take half regular damage. On a Fantastic success, they take full regular damage and the elemental type's special effect.

Elemental Barrier (Fire)
Action: Standard
Duration: Concentration
Cost: 5 Focus
Effect: The character forms a wall of their element within their line of sight and up to 10 spaces away per rank. This covers up to 2 spaces across (vertically/horizontally) per their rank. The character makes an Agility check and compares the results against the Agility defense of any target in the affected spaces. On a success, the character chooses which side of the barrier the target winds up on. On a failure, the target chooses. On a Fantastic success, the target suffers the element's special effect too. Attacks against the barrier are against the character's Ego defense. Any attacks against it that do 10 points of damage or less are instantly absorbed, and the barrier continues. If an attack does more than 10 points of damage, it destroys the barrier. Either way, the attack leaves those behind the barrier unharmed.

Elemental Blast (Fire)
Action: Standard
Duration: Instant
Range: 10 spaces
Cost: 5 or more Focus
Effect: The character makes a ranged attack with an edge at an enemy in line of sight. For this attack, add +1 to the character's Agility damage bonus for every 2 points of Focus they spend. On a success, an affected target takes that total damage. On a Fantastic success, an affected target takes double that total damage and suffers the elemental type's special effect.

Elemental Burst (Fire)
Action: Standard
Duration: Instant
Range: 10 spaces
Effect: The character makes a ranged attack against an enemy in line of sight. If the attack is a success, it inflicts regular damage. On a Fantastic success, the enemy takes double damage instead and the elemental type's special effect.

Elemental Form (Fire)
Duration: Permanent
Effect: The character's body is made entirely of their element, which gives them a steady supply of their element to use and makes them essentially unkillable. When they lose all their Health, their form loses its cohesion and falls apart. When they have at least 1 Health—which they can gain back over time, normally—they can re-form. If the character wishes to use their elemental body in unusual ways, they should pick Plasticity powers. If they wish to be able to be fully human at times, they should take the Shape-Shift power.

Elemental Prison (Fire)
Action: Standard
Duration: Concentration
Cost: Same as the character's Elemental Protection power
Effect: The character picks a point within their line of sight and traps any chosen targets within up to 5 spaces times their rank—in a prison comprised of their element. When the Elemental Prison is formed, the character makes an Ego check and compares the results against the Agility defense of targets inside the enclosed spaces. On each success, the character traps the target within the prison's perimeter. On a Fantastic success, such imprisoned people suffer full damage and the element's special effect too. Attacks against the prison are against the character's Ego defense. Any attacks against the prison are absorbed as if made against the character's Elemental Protection power, and the prison continues. If an attack does more damage than the character's Elemental Protection power can sustain, it destroys the prison, but no one inside is harmed.

Elemental Protection 3 (Fire)
Action: Standard or reaction
Trigger: The character is attacked or otherwise in danger.
Duration: Concentration
Cost: 15 Focus
Effect: The character protects themselves with their element. Any attacks against them that do 30 points of damage or less are instantly absorbed, and the protection continues. If an attack does more than 30 points of damage, it destroys the protection. Either way, the character remains unharmed.

Elemental Push (Fire)
Action: Standard
Duration: Instant
Cost: 10 Focus
Effect: The character makes an Ego attack against the target's Agility defense. If the attack succeeds, the character can move the target in any direction, up to 1 space times the character's rank. On a Fantastic success, the target also takes regular damage, is knocked prone and suffers the element's special effect.

Elemental Reinforcement (Fire)
Action: Reaction
Trigger: Damage gets through an elemental power
Duration: Instant
Cost: Varies
Effect: The character can transfer any Health damage that gets through an elemental power that grants damage protection to their Focus instead, leaving the protection intact.

HUMAN TORCH (JOHNNY STORM)

POWERS

Elemental Sphere (Fire)

Action: Standard or reaction
Duration: Concentration
Cost: Same as the character's Elemental Protection power
Effect: The character envelops themselves—and any chosen people within up to 5 spaces times their rank—in a protective sphere comprised of their element. When the sphere is formed, the character makes an Ego check and compares the results against the Agility defense of unwanted characters in the enclosed spaces. On a success, the character can move any unwanted people within the sphere's perimeter to spaces outside of the sphere. On a Fantastic success, such moved people suffer full damage and the element's special effect. Attacks against the sphere are against the character's Ego defense. Any attacks against the sphere are absorbed as if made against the character's Elemental Protection power, and the sphere continues. If an attack does more damage than the character's Elemental Protection power can sustain, it destroys the sphere, but no one inside is harmed.

Energy Absorption

Action: Reaction
Trigger: The character takes Health damage.
Duration: Instant
Cost: 15 Focus
Effect: The character can take any Health damage done to them (after applying any damage reduction), ignore it and add that number to their Focus instead. In this way, they can increase their Focus up to double their regular maximum Focus. Once the combat is over, any extra Focus over the character's regular maximum Focus score fades away. This power cannot be used again until any Focus the character gained in this way is spent.

Supernova

Action: Standard
Duration: Instant
Cost: 15 or more Focus
Effect: The character makes an Ego check and compares that against the Resilience defense of every enemy within 10 spaces. For these attacks, add +1 to the character's Ego damage bonus for every 2 points of Focus they spend. On a success, an affected target takes half that total damage. On a Fantastic success, an affected target takes full damage and suffers the elemental type's special effect.

POWERS

Elemental Barrier (Force)
Action: Standard
Duration: Concentration
Cost: 5 Focus
Effect: The character forms a wall of their element within their line of sight and up to 10 spaces away per rank. This covers up to 2 spaces across (vertically/horizontally) per their rank. The character makes an Agility check and compares the results against the Agility defense of any target in the affected spaces. On a success, the character chooses which side of the barrier the target winds up on. On a failure, the target chooses. On a Fantastic success, the target suffers the element's special effect too. Attacks against the barrier are against the character's Ego defense. Any attacks against it that do 10 points of damage or less are instantly absorbed, and the barrier continues. If an attack does more than 10 points of damage, it destroys the barrier. Either way, the attack leaves those behind the barrier unharmed.

Elemental Blast (Force)
Action: Standard
Duration: Instant
Range: 10 spaces
Cost: 5 or more Focus
Effect: The character makes a ranged attack with an edge at an enemy in line of sight. For this attack, add +1 to the character's Agility damage bonus for every 2 points of Focus they spend. On a success, an affected target takes that total damage. On a Fantastic success, an affected target takes double that total damage and suffers the elemental type's special effect.

Elemental Burst (Force)
Action: Standard
Duration: Instant
Range: 10 spaces
Effect: The character makes a ranged attack against an enemy in line of sight. If the attack is a success, it inflicts regular damage. On a Fantastic success, the enemy takes double damage instead and the elemental type's special effect.

Elemental Grab (Force)
Action: Standard
Duration: Concentration
Range: Varies
Cost: 5 Focus
Effect: The character makes an Ego attack against a target's Melee defense within 5 spaces times the character's rank. If the attack is a success, the character grabs the target with their element. On a Fantastic success, the target can also be pinned and suffers the element's special effect. Breaking free requires a successful Melee check against target number 20.

Elemental Protection 3 (Force)
Action: Standard or reaction
Trigger: The character is attacked or otherwise in danger.
Duration: Concentration
Cost: 15 Focus
Effect: The character protects themselves with their element. Any attacks against them that do 30 points of damage or less are instantly absorbed, and the protection continues. If an attack does more than 30 points of damage, it destroys the protection. Either way, the character remains unharmed.

Elemental Push (Force)
Action: Standard
Duration: Instant
Cost: 10 Focus
Effect: The character makes an Ego attack against the target's Agility defense. If the attack succeeds, the character can move the target in any direction, up to 1 space times the character's rank. On a Fantastic success, the target also takes regular damage, is knocked prone and suffers the element's special effect.

Elemental Reinforcement (Force)
Action: Reaction
Trigger: Damage gets through an elemental power
Duration: Instant
Cost: Varies
Effect: The character can transfer any Health damage that gets through an elemental power that grants damage protection to their Focus instead, leaving the protection intact.

Elemental Sphere (Force)
Action: Standard or reaction
Duration: Concentration
Cost: Same as the character's Elemental Protection power
Effect: The character envelops themselves—and any chosen people within up to 5 spaces times their rank—in a protective sphere comprised of their element. When the sphere is formed, the character makes an Ego check and compares the results against the Agility defense of unwanted characters in the enclosed spaces. Any attacks against the sphere are absorbed as if made against the character's Elemental Protection power, and the sphere continues. If an attack does more damage than the character's Elemental Protection power can sustain, it destroys the sphere, but no one inside is harmed.

Extend Invisibility
Action: Standard
Duration: Concentration
Cost: 10 Focus
Effect: The character makes something—a single person or object—within reach invisible. This can be one size bigger than them for every rank they have.

Group Invisibility
Action: Standard
Duration: Concentration
Cost: 15 Focus
Effect: For every point of Ego defense the character has, they can make one person or thing invisible, including themselves. Each of these can be one size bigger than them for every rank they have.

Illumination
Action: Standard
Duration: Concentration
Effect: The character illuminates one object or point in line of sight, within 50 spaces, with bright light. The character can maintain concentration on the effect even if they move out of range or line of sight.

Invisbility
Action: Standard
Duration: Concentration
Cost: 5 Focus
Effect: The character becomes invisible. They have an edge on Agility checks to sneak past people, and enemies have trouble on Vigilance checks to perceive them. It's even harder to spot things that are invisible but aren't moving. Characters must be actively trying to do so to be able to make a Vigilance check.

BIOGRAPHY

Real Name: Reed Richards
Height: 6'1" Weight: 180 lbs.
Eyes: Brown Hair: Brown, gray
Gender: Male Size: Average
Distinguishing Features: None
Occupation: Scientist
Origin: Weird Science
Teams: Fantastic Four, Future Foundation
Base: New York City

History
Brilliant young physicist Reed Richards gambled his family's considerable fortune on an experimental space mission, during which he and his crew were bombarded by cosmic rays, giving them super-powers. Back on Earth, with Richards as their leader, the crew formed the Fantastic Four.

Richards' intellect is just as critical a component of his heroism as his powers. With eighteen separate doctorates, he is arguably the most brilliant scientist on the planet. Richards later married one of the crew—Susan Storm (Invisible Woman)—with whom he has two kids, and nothing is more important to him than his family and friends.

Personality
Richards' intense and calculating nature occasionally puts him at odds with his more outwardly emotional teammates, but at heart, he is a humanitarian. He believes that science has the potential to solve all of humanity's problems, and nothing frustrates him more than an unsolvable problem.

POWERS

Body Sheet
Action: Standard or reaction
Trigger: The character falls or is the target of an attack.
Duration: Concentration
Cost: 15 Focus
Effect: The character gains Health Damage Reduction 3, but they cannot make attacks. They gain a Glide Speed equal to double their Run Speed.

Body Sphere
Action: Standard or reaction
Trigger: The character or an ally is the target of an attack.
Duration: Concentration
Cost: 15 Focus
Effect: The character forms their body into a sphere, protecting up to one ally per rank, squeezed into the same space. Those inside the sphere gain Health Damage Reduction 3 against outside attacks, but they cannot move on their own until the character releases them. Alternatively, if the attacker is within the character's reach, the character can make an Agility check against the target's Agility defense. On a success, the character envelops the attacker, grabbing them. On a Fantastic success, the character closes the sphere enough to pin the attacker too.

Bounce Back
Action: Reaction
Trigger: The character takes damage from a fall or is knocked prone.
Duration: Instant
Cost: 5 Focus
Effect: The fall doesn't damage the character. If they are prone, they stand up. If they'd like, they can also jump a number of spaces, up to their Run Speed.

Coiling Crush
Action: Reaction
Trigger: The character grabs an enemy.
Duration: Concentration
Cost: 10 Focus
Effect: The character makes a Melee attack. On a success, the enemy is paralyzed. On a Fantastic success, the enemy also takes regular damage. During the character's subsequent turns, they can spend their movement action to make a Melee check against the enemy's Resilience. If this succeeds, they inflict regular Health damage. On a Fantastic success, they do double damage instead. During the paralyzed enemy's turn, they can make a Melee check against the character's Melee defense to break free.

Combat Trickery
Action: Reaction
Trigger: The character makes an attack.
Duration: Instant
Cost: 5 Focus
Effect: Once per battle, when the character is attacking targets of equal or higher rank, the character automatically rolls a 1 on their Marvel die, and that die cannot be affected by trouble. If the character is attacking multiple targets, all the targets must be of equal or higher rank.

Extended Reach 2
Duration: Permanent
Effect: The character's reach is 10 times normal.

Flexible Bones 2
Duration: Permanent
Effect: The character gains Health Damage Reduction 2. They also have a double edge on Agility checks for contortion and escape.

Flexible Fingers
Duration: Permanent
Effect: With a standard action, the character can automatically pick any lock that requires a physical key. They can also shape their hands to form almost any other kind of simple tool.

Reverse Punch
Action: Standard
Duration: Instant
Cost: 5 Focus
Effect: The character makes a close attack with an edge on an enemy. If the attack is a success, the enemy takes regular damage. On a Fantastic success, the enemy takes double damage and is stunned for one round.

Rubberneck
Duration: Permanent
Effect: The character can move their head away from their body, up to their reach, to establish a line of sight to a target.

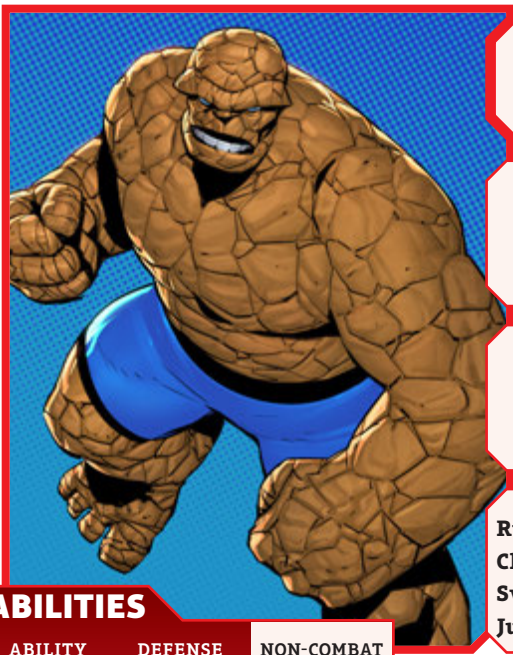

Slip Free
Action: Reaction
Trigger: The character is grabbed or pinned.
Duration: Instant
Effect: The character is not grabbed or pinned.

Stilt Steps
Action: Movement
Duration: Instant
Effect: The character's Run Speed doubles, as does their Climb Speed.

BIOGRAPHY

Real Name: Benjamin Jacob "Ben" Grimm
Height: 6' Weight: 500 lbs.
Eyes: Blue Hair: None
Gender: Male Size: Big
Distinguishing Features: Four digits on each limb, rocky skin
Occupation: Adventurer
Origin: Weird Science
Teams: Fantastic Four
Base: New York City

History
As an experienced test pilot, Ben Grimm jumped at the opportunity to join his old college buddy Reed Richards on an experimental space mission. Just after takeoff, the ship was bombarded by cosmic rays, forcing them to make an emergency landing. Back on Earth, the crew realized they each had been uniquely transformed. Ben's skin had turned rocky and hard, giving him a monstrous appearance. Although horrified by his new visage, Ben joined the rest of the crew to form the Fantastic Four.

Ben has since married the blind sculptor Alicia Grimm (née Masters) and adopted two kids: a Kree boy named Jo-Venn and a Skrull daughter named N'Kalla.

Personality
Ben can be gruff and combative and does not take slights against himself or his friends lightly. Years of living in the public eye have allowed him to reach some level of peace with his appearance, but it's still a sore spot. When determined, Grimm will never quit, even when it seems as though he has reached the limit of his strength.

POWERS

Banging Heads
Action: Standard
Duration: Instant
Effect: The character makes one Melee check against the Melee defense scores of two enemies within reach. If the attack fails against either foe, it fails entirely. If the attack is a success against both foes, each enemy takes full damage. On a Fantastic success, each enemy is also knocked prone.

Clobber
Action: Standard
Duration: Instant
Effect: The character makes a close attack against an enemy. If the attack is a success, the enemy takes regular damage. On a Fantastic success, the enemy takes double damage and is knocked prone.

Combat Trickery
Action: Reaction
Trigger: The character makes an attack.
Duration: Instant
Cost: 5 Focus
Effect: Once per battle, when the character is attacking targets of equal or higher rank, the character automatically rolls a 1 on their Marvel die, and that die cannot be affected by trouble. If the character is attacking multiple targets, all the targets must be of equal or higher rank.

Crushing Grip
Action: Reaction
Trigger: The target is grabbed.
Duration: Instant
Cost: 5 Focus
Effect: The character makes a Melee attack against the grabbed target's Resilience defense. If it's a success, the target takes regular damage. On a Fantastic success, the target takes double damage instead and is pinned.

Ground-Shaking Stomp
Action: Standard
Duration: Instant
Cost: 10 Focus
Effect: The character makes a Melee check and compares that against the Agility defense of every target within the character's reach plus their rank in spaces. Any targets the attack succeeds against take half regular damage. On a Fantastic success, the targets take full damage and are knocked prone.

Immovable
Action: Reaction
Trigger: The character is knocked back or knocked prone.
Duration: Instant
Effect: For every point of Melee defense the character has, they can reduce knockback by 1 space.

Quick Toss
Action: Reaction
Trigger: A person the character can pick up is grabbed.
Duration: Instant
Cost: 10 Focus
Effect: The character throws the grabbed person at another target. The range is determined by the level of the character's Mighty power and the grabbed person's size. The character makes a ranged attack against the target. A failure inflicts regular damage on the thrown person, who falls prone within 1 space of the target. If the attack is a success, the target takes regular damage too. On a Fantastic success, the target is knocked prone as well.

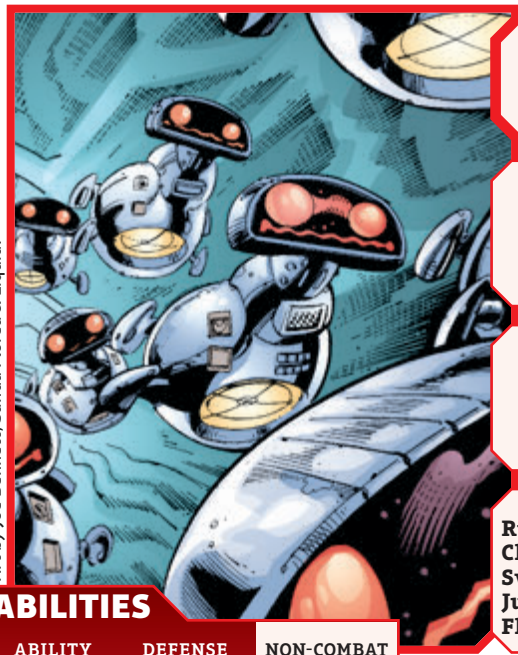

Smash
Action: Standard
Duration: Instant
Cost: 5 or more Focus
Effect: The character makes a close attack with an edge. For this attack, add +1 to the character's Melee damage bonus for every 2 points of Focus they spend. On a success, an affected target takes that total damage. On a Fantastic success, an affected target takes double that total damage and is stunned for one round.

Unrelenting Smash
Action: Standard
Duration: Instant
Cost: 15 Focus
Effect: The character makes a Melee check and compares it against the Melee defense of every enemy within their reach. Any enemy the attack succeeds against takes half regular damage. On a Fantastic success, those enemies take full regular damage and are knocked prone instead. The character may then pay 15 more Focus to do the same thing again—before which they can move up to half their speed with anything left from their normal movement action. They can keep doing this until they run out of speed or Focus. Each target can be affected by this attack by this character only once per round.

History
The first prototype H.E.R.B.I.E. was created by Mister Fantastic (Reed Richards) of the Fantastic Four to aid in the search for Galactus and to act as his personal laboratory assistant. H.E.R.B.I.E. was designed to be smart, helpful and generally cheerful. Incredibly, he actually turned out to be all those things.

In fact, the H.E.R.B.I.E. project was such a success that Richards slowly began to produce more H.E.R.B.I.E.s. Within a few years, H.E.R.B.I.E. units were running almost all of the day-to-day activities at the Fantastic Four's headquarters.

H.E.R.B.I.E. units sometimes accompany the Fantastic Four on their adventures across time and space. However, the average H.E.R.B.I.E.'s duties are far more pedestrian. For example, a specialized H.E.R.B.I.E. unit often acts as the personal caretaker to Richards' two children, Franklin and Valeria.

Personality
For the most part, H.E.R.B.I.E. units are thoughtful and chipper. Built with a heroic spirit, they are quick to offer a hand in assistance to any who need one.

Some H.E.R.B.I.E.s, particularly those assigned to menial and boring tasks, harbor some resentment for their creator, but they rarely let it show. Only a select few H.E.R.B.I.E. units have ever chosen to leave the Fantastic Four behind.

H.E.R.B.I.E. (SECURITY UNIT)

POWERS

Double Tap
Action: Standard
Duration: Instant
Effect: The character makes a ranged attack against an enemy within 2 spaces. If the attack is a success, the enemy takes regular damage. On a Fantastic success, the enemy takes double damage and is bleeding.

Iconic Item
Duration: Permanent
Effect: Opti-Blaster (works like a regular pistol [range of 10 spaces, +1 Damage multiplier bonus] but blinds the target on a Fantastic success.)

Return Fire
Action: Reaction
Trigger: An enemy declares an attack against the character.
Duration: Instant
Cost: 5 Focus
Effect: The character makes an Agility attack against a target's Vigilance defense. If the attack is a success, apply Health Damage Reduction normally. Any damage taken is then applied to the target's Focus instead. If it's a Fantastic success, the damage is doubled and, if the target takes any Focus damage, they are stunned for 1 round.

Snap Shooting
Action: Standard
Duration: Instant
Effect: The character splits their attack to make two ranged attacks against separate targets (or they can focus a single attack on a single target). Make a single Agility check and compare it to the targets' Agility defenses. On a success, an affected target takes half regular damage. On a Fantastic success, an affected target takes full damage and is bleeding.

Sniping
Action: Both standard and movement (character cannot move this turn)
Duration: Instant
Cost: 5 Focus
Effect: The character makes a ranged attack against an enemy at least 20 spaces away. If the attack is a success, the enemy takes regular damage. On a Fantastic success, the enemy takes triple damage instead.

Suppressive Fire
Action: Standard
Duration: Instant
Effect: The character makes an Agility attack against a target's Vigilance defense. If the attack is a success, apply Health Damage Reduction normally. Any damage taken is then applied to the target's Focus instead. If it's a Fantastic success, the damage is doubled, and if the target takes any Focus damage, they are stunned for one round.

BIOGRAPHY

Real Name: Harvey Elder
Height: 4'10" Weight: 165 lbs.
Eyes: Brown Hair: Gray
Gender: Male Size: Average
Distinguishing Features: None
Occupation: Scientist
Origin: Weird Science
Teams: None
Base: Subterranea

History

Despite his genius, Harvey Elder was shunned by society for his homely appearance. Desperate to find his place in the world, he searched far and wide, following rumors of an underground civilization that would accept him. He eventually stumbled upon Monster Island and explored the caverns beneath until finally discovering a tunnel into Subterranea. Despite being caught in an earthquake and blinded by the mystic Valley of Diamonds, he found abandoned Deviant technology and used it to lead many monsters and the underground race of Moloids.

Carving out his own domain, Elder became obsessed with getting revenge on the surface world, but the Fantastic Four thwarted his first attempts. Over the years, other Subterranean leaders like Tyrannus have threatened Elder's dominance. The Mole Man now stands in an uneasy truce with the surface world he resents, but he is all too willing to attack any who endanger his world.

Personality

Harvey Elder is deeply insecure about his looks and his stature and tries to make up for it with the power he now possesses. While this makes him angry and even unhinged most of the time, he can be kind and even helpful to those who others would deem monstrous—including the many giant beasts he lives with underground.

MOLE MAN

POWERS

Battle Plan
Action: Standard
Duration: 1 round
Cost: 10 Focus
Effect: The character inspires one or more allies of their choice in earshot, up to the character's Vigilance. Inspired allies gain an edge on all action checks until the start of the character's next turn.

Fast Strikes
Action: Standard
Duration: Instant
Effect: The character splits their attack to make two close attacks against separate targets within reach (or they can focus a single attack on a single target). Make a single Melee check and compare it to the targets' Melee defenses. On a success, the affected target takes half regular damage. On a Fantastic success, the affected target takes full damage.

Heightened Senses 2
Duration: Permanent
Effect: The character can sense things roughly four times as far away as normal. Their senses are so sharp that they can use some of them to compensate for the loss of others (say, if blinded or deafened). They can even listen to the heartbeat of a person in the same room to see if they are lying—although this is as reliable as a traditional lie detector: far from 100% and not admissible in court. They also have a double edge on Vigilance checks to perceive things, and enemies have double trouble on checks they make to sneak past the character.

Iconic Item
Duration: Permanent
Effect: Staff (Mole Man's staff acts as a remote control for the many Deviant technologies available to him in his Subterranean lair, as long as they have been prepared ahead of time.)

Inspiration
Action: Standard
Duration: 1 round
Effect: The character inspires an ally in earshot. The ally gains an edge on all action checks until the start of the character's next turn.

Keep Moving
Action: Reaction
Trigger: An ally in line of sight and earshot is demoralized or stunned.
Duration: Instant
Effect: The demoralized or stunned condition ends.

Vicious Attack
Action: Standard
Duration: Instant
Effect: The character makes a close attack. If the attack is a success, the enemy takes regular damage. On a Fantastic success, the enemy takes double damage and suffers the weapon's special effect.

BIOGRAPHY

Real Name: Giganto
Height: 45' Weight: 40 tons
Eyes: White Hair: None
Gender: Male Size: Gigantic
Distinguishing Features: Giant, scaly bipedal monster
Occupation: Outsider
Origin: Monstrous
Teams: None
Base: Subterranea

History
Members of the Deviant race created huge mutates to aid them in their battles against the Eternals. When their plot was discovered, the mutates were abandoned on Monster Island and the tunnels below. They were later found and now serve the Mole Man. Giganto, one of the largest of these mutates, became Mole Man's greatest defender and weapon.

A large, powerful, semi-reptilian creature that can burrow through the earth with ease, Giganto was used by Mole Man in one of his first attacks on the surface world, undermining power plants and even cities. He and the Mole Man were defeated by the Fantastic Four in their first adventure.

Personality
Giganto is basically a wild animal that has a certain amount of affection for and subservience to the Mole Man. He has a similar looking female mate, and the two were present during a scheme to control the Inorganic Technotroid, though the artificial being was "born" within the hands of Giganto's mate, thus imprinting her as its "mother."

Crushing Grip
Action: Reaction

Focused Fury
Action: Standard

Furious Attacks
Action: Standard

Ground-Shaking Stomp
Action: Standard
Duration: Instant
Cost: 10 Focus

Any targets the attack succeeds against take half regular damage. On a Fantastic success, the targets take full damage and are knocked prone.

Heightened Senses 1
Duration: Permanent
Effect: The character can sense things roughly twice as far away as normal. They also have an edge on Vigilance checks to perceive things, and enemies have trouble on checks they make to sneak past the character.

Hit & Run
Action: Standard

If the attack is a success, the enemy takes regular damage, and the character can make an additional movement up to half their Run Speed for free. On a Fantastic success, the enemy takes double damage and suffers the weapon's special effect.

Immovable
Action: Reaction
Trigger: The character is knocked back or knocked prone.
Duration: Instant
Effect: For every point of Melee defense the character has, they can reduce knockback by 1 space.

Quick Toss
Action: Reaction
Trigger: A person the character can pick up is grabbed.
Duration: Instant
Cost: 10 Focus
Effect: The character throws the grabbed person at another target. The range is determined by the level of the character's Mighty power and the grabbed person's size. The character makes a ranged attack against the target. A failure inflicts regular damage on the thrown person, who falls prone within 1 space of the target. If the attack is a success, the target takes regular damage too. On a Fantastic success, the target is knocked prone as well.

Cost: 15 Focus
Effect: The character makes a Melee check and compares it against the Melee defense of every enemy within their reach. Any enemy the attack succeeds against takes half regular damage. On a Fantastic success, those enemies take full regular damage and are knocked prone instead. The character may then pay 15 more Focus to do the same thing again—before which they can move up to half their speed with anything left from their normal movement action. They can keep doing this until they run out of speed or Focus. Each target can be affected by this attack by this character only once per round.
